Purpose of personal data handling

ToolBox Consulting Ltd. is using personal data to send it's company Newsletters and Tourism Market. Newsletters includes current topics around tourism industry, tourism events and other current topics.

Personal data handling and handlers

Receiver's company email, website, possible telephone number and person's company information and his/hes position in the company are used for ToolBox contact information and by sending Newsletter or other material related to tourism business.

The handlers of personal data are those who are working at ToolBox Consulting Ltd. and are operating with company communication, Newsletters and marketing. Those contact information are taken away from the database immediately if the Receiver's email is returning back automatically and there is a return message about Receiver's permanent absence OR there is coming five times error message.

Data Release

Personal data is released only those companies which are delivering ToolBox Newsletter or other direct emails. They are not allowed to forward personal data or to use that for other purposes. Personal data is not forwarded or delivered outside of European Union or ETA or international organizations.

Storage time of the data

The data is stored until the company newsletter won't be published OR until the Receiver is cancelling it or by sending a return email or otherwise in written.
